

Vice President, Programs & Services Accreditation Canada

For over 50 years, Accreditation Canada has developed and promoted standards of excellence and helped health services organizations across the country and around the globe improve quality, performance and patient safety. Accreditation Canada has grown to become one of the most highly respected and sought-after accreditation organizations in the world. Today, Accreditation Canada serves over 1,000 domestic and international clients, including Regional Health Authorities, hospitals, and community-based programs and services, from both the private and public sectors.

As the Vice President Programs and Services, you are a key member of Accreditation Canada's Executive Team and play an important role in driving quality and performance excellence. You provide strategic direction on a range of initiatives designed to promote and market the value, development, and expanded use of Accreditation Canada's products and services. To this end, you guide research and program development efforts and champion a team culture focused on exceptional service to both new and existing clients. You also play an important external role, collaborating with partners and stakeholders, developing new business, and representing Accreditation Canada at the local, provincial and national levels.

As the ideal candidate, you hold a graduate degree in a relevant discipline and have extensive senior management experience. Your clinical preparation or firsthand knowledge of health service delivery will serve clients well, as will your knowledge of how accreditation programs can add value and help improve performance and quality. A highly strategic leader, you are respected for your integrity, diplomacy and sound judgment. Your supportive management style emphasizes teamwork, coaching, and mentorship. You have superior communication and facilitation skills and possess the political acuity, objectivity and sensitivity required to navigate within a complex, multi-layered, pan-Canadian arena. Your ability to communicate in both official languages will be a valuable asset in this national role.
